LOOKS BAD FOR GORDYThe Drowned Woman at Milton Identified as His Wife.

Circumstances Indicate That She Was Murdered for Her Money.
Gordy Is Now in Jail.

New York, March 13.—The identity of the woman who was murdered and thrown into the Broadkill Creek near Milton, Del., Thursday night was established here this afternoon. She was Mrs. John Gordy, the widow of an ink manufacturer named Lewis, of this city, and lived for a month or more, until last Wednesday, at No. 2613 Eighth avenue, this city.

A week before her departure from the Eighth avenue house Mrs. Lewis announced her marriage, sold out the ink business left to her by her former husband, and, with the money thus obtained, went to take up her life with Gordy, whom she said was a farmer, living near Milton, Del.

The circumstances attending her departure, as they have been brought to light, indicate that the woman was married for money, and then murdered for it.

The identification of the woman was made this afternoon by Jankor Thorn dyke, who supervised the flathouse in which Mrs. Lewis lived.

Mrs. Lewis, now Gordy, left the apartment on Wednesday last. When Thorn dyke was shown the description of the murdered woman, he said: "That's Mrs. Lewis, I'm sure of it."

"810" Seventh St.HOUSEBREAKERS CAPTURED

They Robbed the Stores of Ninth Street Merchants.

The Criminals, Who Are Young Men, Confessed Their Guilt. Their Plan of Operation.

Detectives Helan and Lacey, of the central office, made an important capture last night of three colored thieves who have been wanted for some time past for housebreaking. The prisoners confessed their guilt, to a large extent, and gave their names as Charles Wormley, aged twenty-two years; Ambrose, alias "Boze," Turner, twenty-one, and James Casey, eighteen.

At intervals for several months past the merchants and storekeepers along Ninth street, between D and E streets, have been missing goods in small quantities, as well as change which might have been left in the money drawers. Saloonkeeper Bretbarth, Confectioner Sharpless and Caterer Budd have been the principal losers. From the former place the thieves took a large quantity of wines, liquors and cigars, while five-pound boxes of candy were missed from Mr. Sharpless' establishment, and silverware, consisting of knives, forks and spoons, as well as high-priced cakes and confections, from Budd's store.

The robberies were usually committed on Sunday nights after 12 o'clock, and no trace of the thieves could be found. Some of the merchants suspected clerks and others in their employ, and kept a vigilant watch, but were unable to discover how the leakage occurred.

Several days ago "Boze" Turner, one of the prisoners, whom Detective Lacey had in times past befriended, told the officer that he could put him onto a good case, and when closely questioned implicated the other boys in the crimes. The detectives discovered yesterday, after following the boy's clue, that a part of the stolen goods had been sold to Mrs. Hegdeman, who keeps a small store at the corner of Second and Half streets southwest, while others had been peddled out and otherwise disposed of by the thieves.

Last night the officers located the three thieves and arrested them. They were taken to police headquarters and "sweated" and confessed to a large number of thefts. Wormley stated that he had planned the robberies and had always been assisted by Turner and Casey, the latter standing outside the stores and remaining on watch to give the alarm in case they should be detected. He said that a colored man who had stolen from the stores before, but who was now in Philadelphia, had told him that the places were easy marks, and could be robbed without difficulty or detection. Entrance was made to the buildings from an alley in the rear, and by scaling a high wall and raising windows. The police believe that these thieves are responsible for a large number of housebreakings which have been reported recently. They already have evidence of three distinct cases against them, and it is believed that they were implicated in at least half a dozen more.

Students to Receive Mr. Bryan.

A mass meeting of the students of the law department of Columbia University was held last night to complete arrangements for the reception of Hon. William J. Bryan on his visit to Washington next month, when he will deliver a lecture before the students of the university. The meeting was largely attended and was presided over by Mr. Frank Wyle, of Arkansas. Mr. Charles Calvert, of Maryland, was chosen chairman of the committee on arrangements and Mr. W. M. Crook, of Texas, chairman of the reception committee. The other members of the committee are to be selected by the presidents of the several classes.

Oil Suit Settled.

Pittsburg, March 13.—Upon motion of Pitts & Thorp, attorneys for plaintiff, and joined in by J. W. Mr. Charles Calvert, of Maryland, was chosen chairman of the committee on arrangements and Mr. W. M. Crook, of Texas, chairman of the reception committee. The other members of the committee are to be selected by the presidents of the several classes.

this work by Monday, so as to be able to present a tariff bill to the House for reference to the Committee on Ways and Means, which will probably then be appointed, and for prompt report back to the House for its consideration and action.

It will not undertake at this time to forecast the provisions of the bill which we shall present. Rest assured that whatever shortcomings it may have will not be the result of a want of careful consideration, but of the inherent difficulties in framing a measure of such magnitude. The Republican members of the Ways and Means Committee who have framed this measure, believe, however, that barring the temporary interference arising from anticipating importations for the purpose of avoiding new duties—an interference which will depend entirely upon the promptitude of the delay in its passage, the proposed bill will secure the two ends so earnestly desired by the country, sufficient revenue to run the Government, and encouragement of American industries and the opening of abundant opportunities for labor. (Applause.)

"The Congress which will meet in extraordinary session on Monday will meet the expectations of our people without party distinctions, if it shall promptly put upon the statute books a tariff measure that will meet these two ends. Capital and labor unite in asking that there be no unnecessary delay. (Applause.)

"Let me again indulge the hope that the promptness and unanimity of our preliminary action tonight may presage the same results in the work of the extraordinary session, which has been commended by the Chief Magistrate who has just been inaugurated amid the plaudits of the people." (Long continued applause.)

Mr. Walker, of Massachusetts, offered a resolution providing for a committee of seven members to revise the rules.

Mr. W. A. Stone, of Pennsylvania, made a motion to adjourn. This, amid some confusion, was voted down, and Mr. Walker was permitted to proceed with his remarks. He criticized the rules and maintained that an impression existed that they did not permit that freedom of debate which the House desired.

Mr. Mahany, of New York, followed in a few remarks, in which he asserted that the "gag law" which was so prominent in the Fifty-fourth Congress, did not die in that Congress, but had been re-enacted there. That it was the usual trick of self-constituted leaders temporarily to adopt the adoption of the rules of the preceding Congress, but that it was easier to move "Mount Etna" than to secure their amendment after this was done.

THE POPULIST CAUCUS.

It Has Been Postponed Until Monday Morning.

The Populist members of the House were to have caucused last evening, but owing to the absence of seven or eight members of Congress of that party, the caucus was postponed. The members of the third party will meet in the hall of the House at 10:30 Monday morning and nominate candidates for House officers.

It is expected that nineteen members and two delegates will participate in the caucus. The nominees for Speaker will be John C. Bell, of Colorado, or Jerry Simpson, of Kansas. Bell was the candidate of the party in the Fifty-fourth Congress and Simpson in the Fifty-third Congress. It is said that Tom Watson will be nominated for Clerk. He was the Populist candidate for Speaker in 1891, and Clerk in 1895.

BLISS VACATES HIS ORDER

there is in your office what purports to be an opinion signed in the matter of the application of Mathias Bonner and Harvey M. LaFollette to locate McKee scrip on what is known as the lake front of Chicago, Ill., and that a copy of said paper has been delivered to one of the parties to the controversy before its rendition and promulgation, in flagrant disregard of right and justice, in violation of the express order of my predecessor and the usual and just rules of procedure now, therefore, in the exercise of the discretion and authority conferred upon me by law, I direct you to order a rehearing of such application at such time as you may designate, not later than thirty days from the date hereof, and to immediately notify all parties in interest of this order and of the time fixed for the hearing.

"All orders and acts of your department heretofore made or done in the matter of such application are hereby rescinded, vacated and annulled to the end that such application may be heard de novo, and true and equal justice done between the parties."

"CORNELIUS N. BLISS, Secretary."

The following statement was given out with the order: "The order was prompted by the facts therein referred to. On the 22d day of February Secretary Francis directed that judgment in the case be suspended until the further order of his department. This order has been published. The Secretary was thereafter informed that no decision had been rendered; none was found in the proper office of the Land Department; none appears in the letterpress book, where all decisions are required to be promulgated, but in no case to be promulgated. This was done on the 20th of the 23d Secretary suspended promulgation."

"S. W. LAMOREUX."

"Although it does not appear to whom the copy was given, yet as Mr. Lamoreux did not disclose the name of the person, merely that he gave it to 'a party,' it is to be presumed that such party was not without interest in the controversy. Moreover, before this department was advised that any decision had been signed, counsel for the scrip holders requested that such an opinion be promulgated. Knowledge of the opinion is, therefore, traceable to them."

"The propriety of giving out a copy of an unrendered, unpronounced decision to one of the parties to a controversy in advance of the day set for its formal announcement is too obvious to require comment. Mr. Lamoreux states that he gave a copy to a party three days in advance of the time appointed by himself for its promulgation in the usual and proper way. Neither faith nor credit can attach to an opinion under such circumstances."

"Since it was never properly filed, it was deemed best to rescind it and direct a new trial. This was done. The law which justifies the action of the department may be found in the statutes of the United States and the decisions of its Supreme Court. The leading case on the subject, Knights vs. Land Association, is found in 142 U. S. page 178, wherein Mr. Justice Lamar says:

"The statutes in placing the whole business of the department under the supervision of the Secretary invest him with authority to review, reverse, amend, annul or affirm all proceedings in the department having for their ultimate object to secure the allocation of any portion of the public lands, or the adjustment of private claims to lands, with a just regard to the rights of the public and of private parties. Such supervision may be exercised by direct orders or by review on appeals. When proceedings affecting titles of lands are before the department the power of supervision may be exercised by the Secretary, whether those proceedings are called to his attention by formal notice or by appeal. It is sufficient that they are brought to his notice. The rules prescribed are designed to facilitate the department in the dispatch of business, not to defeat the supervision of the Secretary."

CONSULTATION IN PERSON OR FREE BY LETTER

by Secretary Francis before his successor, Mr. Bliss.

Yesterday Senator Spooner, of Wisconsin, called on Secretary Bliss and urged that Judge Lamoreux be given an opportunity to explain and justify his action. Acting Commissioner Bliss decided to grant a new hearing of the case of April 5.

When questioned last night by a reporter of The Times in regard to his future steps in the affair, Secretary Bliss said that he was unable at this time to make any statement other than that which had gone out officially.

The news of the vacation of his order reached Judge Lamoreux at Horicon, his home in Wisconsin, yesterday, where he is reported to be quite unwell. He was asked to express himself on the new phase of the case. He declined to do so, but he said that the Land Office was the place to get all the information on the subject.

A GOOD PLACE FOR PAYNE

Report That He Has Been Offered the German Mission.

It Is Said News, If True, for Merriam—Mr. Payne Declines to Commit Himself.

Hon. Henry M. Payne, of Wisconsin, member of the National Republican committee, arrived in this city last night and is staying at the Arlington.

Mr. Payne is the "great disgruntled" of the McKinley Administration. It is said that he had almost a promise of a Cabinet position from Mr. Hanna and others, in fact, nearly everybody except President McKinley himself. He failed to connect with the Cabinet position.

It is further stated by an astute politician that in the refusal of President McKinley to keep his promise, Mr. Hanna and others, in fact, nearly everybody except President McKinley himself. He failed to connect with the Cabinet position.

Mr. Payne said to have done great work during the campaign and to be deserving of large recognition.

Mr. McKinley's reasons for refusing to comply with the wishes of Mr. Hanna in the case of Mr. Payne have furnished material for much surmise. It is a fact that the gentleman from Wisconsin has been prominent in ways that have made him cordially disliked by organized labor.

Mr. Payne is said to have done great work during the campaign and to be deserving of large recognition.

Senator Spooner was closeted with Mr. Payne for a long time last night. It is said he had good news for him, that his fate and Merriam's had been decided, by the offer of the German mission to him and not to Merriam. This cannot, however, be verified.

Mr. Payne was seen by a Times reporter for a moment shortly after his arrival.

"My business in the National Capital at this time is of a personal nature. I expect to call on President McKinley while I am here, but my visit will be purely a social one, and will have no political significance."

TWENTY CUBANS BUTCHERED.

Bodies Left to Be Devoured by Dogs and Vultures.

Havana, March 13.—All the Cuban rebels of Belical are fleeing in terror from the town.

The Spanish garrison of troops and volunteers, enraged at the repeated attacks made on the town by the rebels, are wreaking vengeance on peaceful residents.

Twenty of them were taken out of their homes last Thursday night and butchered in the outskirts.

Their bodies were left in the open fields to be devoured by the dogs and vultures. Vengeance is also being taken on the helpless women and children who are alleged to have relations or friends in the rebel ranks.

Lee's Family to Return Home. Havana, March 13.—The family of Consul General Lee will return to the United States within two weeks. This is thought to be preparatory to a change in the consularship.

Opposed to Forest Reserve. Seattle, Wash., March 13.—The chamber of commerce has memorialized Congress for the enactment of legislation annulling President Cleveland's forest reserve order.

TWO TOWNS INUNDATED

The Mississippi River Again on a Rampage.

WATER HIGHEST EVER KNOWN

People of Marion, Ark., Compelled to Leave Their Beds and Flee for Their Lives—The Love Broke and the Surging Waters Swept All Before It.

Memphis, Tenn., March 13.—The Mississippi River here now registers a higher stage of water than ever known.

Disaster attending this condition began today, two Arkansas towns across from this city being submerged and the inhabitants driven to safer places. These are Marion and West Memphis.

The former is under from three to four feet of water, due to a break of its protection levee early this morning. The break occurred before many of the inhabitants had left their beds and there was a scene of great bustle and excitement, but no loss of life. Live stock, however, is being almost decimated, the highest points in that section being under water.

This city is, of course, in no danger as a whole, owing to its natural protection, but the bayou extending entirely through the city is overflowing from river backwater and threatening damage to abutting property.

From one of the largest cotton sheds on its banks today it became necessary to remove three thousand bales of cotton from the water's path.

So far as known none of the main levees are trembling under the pressure of water, but they are being guarded all along the line.

"HEART OF MARYLAND" SOLD.

Mr. Hobart Brooks Will Remain as Press Agent.

"The Heart of Maryland," David Belasco's most successful drama, went out of the possession of Mr. Max Heiman last night and will tomorrow night be played at Philadelphia under the management of Mr. Belasco.

Three days ago Mr. Heiman endeavored to induce Mr. Belasco to lease the play to him for another season. On Thursday, however, Mr. Belasco purchased the scenery, properties and all rights for $1,500 from him for next season.

There have been discussions in "The Heart of Maryland" Company, as recently stated in The Times, growing out of the retirement of Mr. Hobart Brooks, the press agent of the company.

Mr. Brooks went over to Philadelphia yesterday morning ostensibly and as far as he knew to take up the work of booking Mrs. Leslie Carter in the interest of Mr. Belasco alone. He will now resume his former work, but under different auspices.

Mrs. Carter, it was whispered among theatrical gossip, was not on the best of terms with Mr. Heiman, and that possibly this may have ended in a serious rupture.

The Lafayette was packed on Friday night and last night, when Mrs. Carter returned to the stage. It is surmised that she returned to her part to make things end smoothly after the sale of the play to Mr. Belasco.

FIGHT IN A SALOON.

Pistols and Stiletos Used With Fatal Results.

New York, March 13.—There was a murderous and bloody affray tonight in Michael Carmelo's saloon, at 113 Elizabeth street, between eleven Italians. Jago Moto was shot in the head and dangerously injured. His brother John was also shot in the head but was not badly hurt. Santa Bruno was shot in the left temple and will die.

The fight occurred shortly before 11 o'clock. Carmelo's saloon is a resort for Italian sailors and laborers. Tonight there were about thirty men in the place, drinking, playing cards and carousing. A quarrel arose and soon a general fight was in progress.

Stiletos and pistols were drawn, and the fighting lasted for several minutes. People in the neighborhood were alarmed by the cries and the shooting, and summoned the police, who quelled the disturbance and made several arrests. When the place was cleared the three injured men were found. They were taken to a hospital.

PROPELLED BY COMPRESSED AIR

Successful Trial of the New Motor on the Eckington Line.

The new compressed air motor was given a trial on the Eckington and Soldiers' Home Railway at 11 o'clock last night. The run was from Fifteenth and G streets to the power-house. The motor attracted considerable attention as it stood on the tracks opposite the Riggs House. The car was new, painted in accordance with the other rolling stock of the company, and lighted brightly by three lamps burning the Pintsch gas.

The car is patterned after those in successful operation in New York. It is thirty-three feet in length, and has about 21,000 pounds. The cars for regular service upon this road will be twenty-eight feet long and considerably lighter than this motor, which is fitted with the latest improved fenders. The wheels are protected on the sides by steel bars. The controller and brake are located in the rear of the car, and are operated by the driver.

On the trip last night the car was in charge of C. A. Vogelsang, superintendent of the Hoadley-Knight compressed air system. The tracks were not cleared for the trial and no attempt at speed was made. The car ran smoothly, stopped and started without a jar, and took the grades and curves upon the road easily. There was no noise except a slight exhaust heard at starting and upon some of the curves. The car was reversed a number of times without any jar, and started backward or forward without a jar. The car was controlled almost entirely without the aid of the brake.

This trip was preliminary to the official trial Tuesday, when a number of invited guests will be present. The car was run from the power-house to Center Market, Saturday morning, and easily took a sixty-foot radius curve on a six per cent grade. The gentlemen present on the trip last night were J. H. Hoadley, president of the Hoadley-Knight compressed air system; Receiver W. K. Schorff, of the road; O. H. Hoadley, and R. I. Todd, superintendent of the Eckington and Soldiers' Home Railway.

Made a Mile a Minute. London, Ont., March 13.—The Wabash express, on the Grand Trunk Railway, made the fastest run on record between Niagara Falls and Windsor today, making up fifty-two minutes between the two points, and beating the previous record by 70 minutes. The average speed for the trip was a mile a minute.
